George Houser, Marion, marketed hogs John Cox, Geuda Springs, sent in a car

J. H. Williams, Goddard, sent in a car of hogs

Leon Bank, Leon, marketed a car of cattle and one of hogs. Every shipper who comes to this market goes home satisfied.

Butz bought sixty-two cattle today and shipped two cars east, A. D. Caton, Penbody, was on the early market with a load of hogs. Whittaker bought 869 hogs today and his buyer said he wanted more.

Ed. Weidlein, Augusta, was on today's market with a car of good hogs. F. V. Borland, Lyons, Kan., was on the market with a load of good bogs The Wichita live stock market is making long and rapid strides to the front.

Sterling and Brinley, Peabedy, were on today's market with four cars of choice

We hear shippers saying almost every day that you have the jest hog market in

There is a strong feeling in the hog market and our packers say they want and must have more hogs. The Wichita market is surely a daisy and if you have any doubts about it send one car of hogs as a trial. W. T. Hall, who never goes back on the Wichita market, was in from Mt. Hope today with a car of mixed stock. If you have never tried the Wichita live stock market just try it with one car of stock and see how pleased you will be. Mr. Sykes, of Sykes Bros., extensive shippers from New Murdock, was on today's market with a car of mixed stock. We are getting new shippers every day and they say this is certainly the market for southwestern Kansas and they are going to keep coming.

J. B. Kell, Clearwater, came in today with one car of cattle and one of hogs He is a heavy shipper, and says this market is good enough for anybody.

Our stock buyers and commission men are all nice gentlemen and are auxious to get acquainted with shippers and stock men. Come in and see them.

There are different ways of doing this. Some young fellows, if they have money, plunge into society the very first thing That's a good thing in its way, but I do not believe that it pays in the long run. Others join secret orders, attend meetings regularly. and in a few weeks know several bundred sople by sight a best plans, and a very popular one.

If you are familiar with the secret organ zations of the city, just think how many of their officers are lawyers. Another plan which is employed with good results by many is to take board in a down town hotel, and spend a great part of the time, out of office hours, in the rotunda, meeting strangers and talking. One keeps himself in touch with all the news this way, and makes valuable ac-quaintances. The young lawyer who is fortunate enough to get a desk in the office of some established attorney, whose friends and clients he meets, is in the best position of them ail, and will probably begin making money sooner than any of them. If, with this advantage he will also put into execution one of those other plans, he will go ahead rapidly.—One of Them in St. Louis

Ever since man became civilized enough to trim his hair, the barber has occupied prominent place in caricatures and news-paper paragraphs. The nature of his occu-pation brings him into contact with his fel-low men when they are in undress and in his power. Thus he naturally develops the con-versational art, and at the same time a de-

For many years an old barber wielded the shears in a narrow street, an early "cow path," in Boston. During these years many distinguished men bad passed through his hands, and had been benefited by his wisdom. The good man, who saw these notables enter his shop at regular intervals, could not imag me that they were aught in life but append-ages of his shop. One day the old man, while trimming the beard of a young lawyer, slowly delivered this reminiscence into his fettered ear: "Chief Justice Shaw was for many years a customer of mine. Every month he used to come in to have his hair cut. I remember that one month he didn't come. I suppose that he had something else on his mind."

Why the Compass Points North. The compass needle points north because practically the earth is a magnet, not differ ing essentially in its magnetic properties from a bar of magnetized steel. It has two poles of greatest intensity, and like most large steel magnets, there are several supplemental poles of lesser intensity.

Just as the pole of one har magnet attracts needie, unlike poles attracting, and like poles repelling each other.

But it is not correct to say that the needle always points north; as a matter of fact there are but few localities on the earth where it does so, and even those are constantly

An irregular line drawn from the month of the Orinoco river through the east count of Hayti, Charleston, S. C., and Detroit, Mich., represents very nearly the line in wisca there is no variation at the present time.

In all places east of this line the north end of the needle swings slightly to the westward; in all places west of it to the eastward. At the month of the Columbia river the varia-sion of the compass is about 20 dags, east; in Alasin it is from 40 to 60 dags, east; midway between New York and Liverpool it is about tion, and the explanation is, that the needle does not point to the north pole, as so many people suppose, but to the magnetic pole, which is something entirely different.
